A MASS MEETING AT PRINCESS TONIGHT

NEWPORT HARBOR QUESTION TO BE DISCUSSED.

COMMITTEE WILL REPORT

Some Good Speakers Will Be Present; County Harbor Commission Will Report Soon.

There will be a mass meeting at the Princess theatre this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of learning the sentiment of the community relative to voting an issue of bonds for the improvement of the harbor in Newport Bay.

The meeting will be under the auspices of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, but everyone is invited to attend.

The question is one that is of great interest to every voter of Orange county, and especially to Huntington Beach, as if a commercial harbor is established at Newport Beach there will be a big saving in freight rates on most commodities shipped into this territory, and the harbor will be a splendid investment.

The citizens of Newport Beach are making a heroic effort for a harbor, having already voted bonds in the sum of $125,000, and will soon vote an additional issue of $50,000. This preliminary work will consist of the construction of the jetty at the mouth of the harbor and dredging a channel up to the bridge across the Santa Ana river.

A part of the plan is to run the Santa Ana river direct into the ocean, where it now encounters the sand spit, which will relieve the harbor of the disastrous flow of silt.

HUNTINGTON BEACH BOY IS CHASING SUBMARINES.

HARRY M'CAIN WRITES TO HIS MOTHER.

Mrs. J. R. McCain received a letter Wednesday from her son, Harry McCain, who has been in the naval service for several years, written from a French port, stating that he was aboard an officers' vessel, chasing submarines, and that he was enjoying the work.

Mr. McCain stated that if everybody in America would do their part he did not think the war would last very much longer.

Mr. McCain is a baker and is baking for 125 men.

LIMITED TELEPHONE SERVICE ADVOCATED.

A. A. MILLS OF ANAHEIM WRITES LETTER.

Editor Huntington Beach News:

I will file with the Railroad Commission a brief or statement in defense of a county-wide no-toll telephone system for Orange county. To fight the merger, now the contending parties are working together, thereby eliminating any possible competition, is absurd. The mayor of Los Angeles has just made a report that for the two switch boards in the city hall, Los Angeles is paying over $52,000.00 per year, when with one it would cost only little over half this amount. With the two systems still in existence here, with the same men controlling the stock in both companies or working under a "gentlemen's agreement," thereby eliminating competition, Orange county people would be in the same position as in Los Angeles, viz., paying double for no benefits.

In this statement or brief I will say that the returns to the telephone company being the same under tolls or no-tolls, then every subscriber in the county would prefer the no-toll system, unless some subscriber notifies me to the contrary.

The telephone companies claim that they are operating at present, and have been for five years past, at a loss and ask that rentals on phones be raised, and especially on the suburban subscriber, from $1.50 to $2.50 per month.

In this respect, I will say that in any readjustment of rates the residence phone should not be raised at all, but remain at $1.50 per month; that any necessary increase in revenue, if such there be, be borne by the business and professional phones, and that these pay under a measured service. Say that for 1000 calls per month there be a flat rate, and then an additional charge for all calls above this, both the number of calls for the flat rate and the extra charge for extra calls being finally determined by experience. This will give the resident phone, with its few calls a day a reasonable rate, and will place the greater burden on those who in business use them more, (the more business, the more calls), with the charge where it properly belongs. At the present time business and professional men are paying for two phones, where, after the merger, they will need but one. If there are any who object to this I should be glad to hear from them.

I will also state that in arriving at the proper returns for the telephone company that the Commission eliminate the item of depreciation entirely or reduce it to a nominal amount, as the whole system is kept in perfect repair, for which the users pay by either a maintenance or a repair charge. If any part wears out, rots out or is destroyed in any other manner, it simply is replaced and charged to one of the foregoing accounts. If there is a necessary change or improvement in the system, which has been and may be again, then the extra cost should be charged to capital stock, while the cost up to the original, less salvage, should go to maintenance.

The telephone company had a charge of 6.64 per cent for depreciation, which would mean that the telephone users must build and equip a new plant every 15 years, besides keeping in perfect order the plant already in operation, which is in as good condition at the end of the 15 years as ever it was.

On any or all of these points, I solicit suggestions through the aid of your paper. A. A. MILLS.

SIDELIGHTS OF THE SUNDAY CAMPAIGN

REV. COYNE WRITES SOMETHING OF TABERNACLE.

ACCOMMODATES ABOUT 16,000

The Total Cost of Building Was $29,184.98; No Convenience In the Arrangement Has Been Overlooked.

[Robert John Coyne.]

The Sunday tabernacle is something unique in religious tabernacle architecture and scope. The building is immense in proportions and has space to accommodate 16,000 persons, including the 2,500 seats in the choir loft. The lumber used in its construction is not rough material, and the building is not carelessly thrown together. The lumber is surfaced throughout the entire building, and the corners and edges within reach of the people are carefully rounded and smoothed. There are no slivers. Inside the walls, and extending completely around the building, is a runway about 20 feet wide, and from this runway are the openings through which the people pass and are received by the ushers, there being two ushers at each opening and rope conveniences to close the openings when necessary. The doorkeepers (two to each door) stand in the entrances in the walls of the building, and to them you must show your ticket, when the tickets are used, and each ticket is scrutinized, no one being admitted to certain sections unless the ticket calls for that section. Some confusion is thus created, and occasionally feelings are ruffled. But this is the law and each one must abide by it, or—.

There is nothing cheap in the construction or in the various conveniences provided for the comfort of the multitudes. For instance, around the runway are numerous telephones of both systems, which are a great convenience to the public, especially the business men and women and the committees. Puritas filtered water, in great carboys, placed upon coolers, mounted upon handsome iron stands and flanked with patent cup holders, where a sanitary drinking cup may be had for one cent, are scattered all around the runway. There are provided, also, fire extinguishers and stretchers, which are used by the hospital corps, who are in constant attendance during each meeting. The hospital is arranged to accommodate any emergency call likely to come to it. Several physicians and nurses are always on hand during the various meetings. Neatly tucked away between the studding of the outer walls are numbers of folding chairs, ready for any need that may develop.

The floor is covered with sawdust and shavings, which are sprayed every day with a sanitary solution, to obviate the nuisance of vermin or insects. The tabernacle is sanitary.

Another division of this campaign is the provision made for feeding the multitude. A first-class cafeteria has been erected alongside the tabernacle, which can accommodate an unending stream of diners from morning until night. As many as 5,000 have been fed in one day in the cafeteria. Here everything is of the best—snow-white table linen, which is not permitted to remain on the table when even in the least degree soiled; abundance of help, and two serving tables heaped with an abundance of the best the market affords, and yet to be had at a moderate charge, is a highly appreciated convenience to those who come direct from their business to the Sunday meetings. Then there is the ice cream and soda water stand, which, on hot days, does an immense business, and which is situated in one corner of the cafeteria and opens outward. The Bible Society occupies the opposite corner of the same building.

Nothing has been overlooked or is lacking that would contribute in any way to the comfort or convenience of those who attend the Sunday meetings. The complete cost of the tabernacle is $27,589.64. The ground rent is $1,549.75, a total of $29,139.39. While we are dealing with expenses, we may note that expenditures for postage in the preparation for the campaign, etc., Sunday party railroad fare, and including the cost of the building and ground rent, amount to, in round numbers, $41,595.40. The deficit up to Thursday night, September 13th, was $29,184.98. The total receipts from all sources to the same date were $12,411.32.

A gentleman was once asked if the large sum he had just subscribed to the Y. M. C. A. was not a rather large amount to save a boy, replied, "No, not if the boy were my boy." The kingdom of God demands all that we have, as well as the best that we possess. For the magnitude of the effort in Los Angeles the amount spent is not large.

"ONE OF MANY" FOR TUESDAY NIGHT.

MORE COMEDY WILL BE SHOWN ON SUNDAY NIGHTS.

The "jitney buss" has been taken as the subject of a motion picture. In "The Car of Chance," to be shown at the Princess on Saturday night, we have a comedy drama woven about the jitney buss, in which no less an actor than Franklyn Farnum is starred. This novel conception is a real comedy drama and is built for laughing purposes only. When Arnold Baird found that he had been disinherited by his father he was surely disappointed. His only share of his father's vast estate was a seven-passenger touring car and $100.00 in money, to spend exclusively for gasoline and repairs. He was in love with the daughter of a traction magnate, and when he asked for her hand the stern parent demanded that he get out and earn $10,000.00 before daring to aspire to his daughter. The way that the resourceful young man transformed the touring car into a jitney buss and proceeded to coin money while there was a strike on the stern parent's street railroad, broke the car strike, won the girl and incidentally created a position in the stern parent's employ at a salary of $10,000.00 per year, makes interesting photoplay entertainment. The romance is engagingly revealed in lovely scenes and fascinating episodes, replete with comedy and bound to produce the desired effect upon pleasure seekers who find in moving pictures their best form of entertainment. Come and enjoy an hour and a half of real good, clean fun.

On Sunday night, Mrs. Nelson inaugurates a new custom at the Princess. There has been a great many inquiries by the young folks, and the older ones as well, for more comedy, so, in order to meet this demand, the program on Sunday nights, until further notice, will comprise a mixture of drama and comedy. This week the king of all cowboy actors, Harry Carey, the man who has created more classic Western dramas than any other star, will hold the screen in "Six-Shooter Justice." The title indicates just what it is, a wild and woolly drama of the pioneer days in the West, before the frontier had disappeared from the face of the earth. It is tense, thrilling and melodramatic to the last degree. The story is told in three reels of thrills. In addition, there will be two reels of good roaring comedy.

The Metro feature on Tuesday night comprises Frances Nelson, the "great" little emotional star, in "One of Many," supported by a distinguished company of artists. "One of Many" is a five-reel feature depicting the struggles, the sorrows, the regeneration of "Shirley Bryson," the little manicure girl, whose love for her mother blinds her eyes to her duty to herself. This realistic picture lays bare the pitfalls that beset the path of young girls who go out into the world to grapple with modern conditions. It preaches in plain terms the doctrine that "they who sow must also reap."

The National Board of Censorship, after seeing "One of Many," pronounced it an artistic production of the highest order, teaching a profound moral lesson, and an entertainment of pronounced merit and unusual strength.

BEAN THRESHING IS IN PROGRESS.

Lima bean threshing is now progressing in some fields on the mesa. Threshing on the Huntington Beach Company's big fields started Tuesday. There are 700 acres of beans on the company's land.

CO. Y. M. C. A. WORK HAS BEEN OUTLINED

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE HELD LAST WEEK.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY NAMED

Coming Year Bids Fair to Be One of the Most Lively In the History of the Organization.

The County Y. M. C. A. work has grown so that it has been found necessary to have an assistant for the county secretary. At a meeting of the county committee held last Saturday evening, Archie Raitt was elected to fill this position. Mr. Raitt is one of the young business men of Santa Ana who has been doing much volunteer service in this work.

The first Orange County Y. M. C. A. Retreat and Conference has been held. About sixty representative business and professional men of the county were in attendance, as well as five outside speakers. The affair was held in a canyon about three miles above the County Park. The men slept on the ground and ate from tin dishes.

The Conference started at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the next twenty-four hours were full of conferences and meetings, with only time enough taken out for eating and sleeping. The special messages were brought by Prof. J. G. Hill of U. S. C., State Secretary McRae, Tom Clay of the army Y. M. C. A. work, Prof. Haden of Azusa, and Mr. Scott of Tulare county. Prof. Cranston, Harry Lewis and R. G. Cole of this county also had places on the program.

During the retreat, perhaps the most important county committee meeting of the year was held, at which time the policy for the year's work was adopted and other important business transacted. Upon the motion of Charles Eygabroad of Anaheim, seconded by Mr. Gregory of Fullerton, this policy was ordered published in all papers of the county, the full text of which follows:

1917-18 Policy of the Orange County Y. M. C. A.

Members of the County Committee, Orange County Y. M. C. A.

Gentlemen:—As we approach this our second year of Y. M. C. A. work together, and pause to glance and peer into the future we can do so with much greater anticipation and much less misgivings than we could a year ago. We have been richly blessed the past year. Our policy of a year ago outlined in the main the removal of debts which had been of long standing, the promotion of the work among at least 400 boys and young men, and the training of more volunteer workers. This and much more has been accomplished, and we may hope for even greater things in the year before us.

It shall be our general policy to continue our work along the lines already started, perfecting, intensifying and enlarging where possible. Therefore we shall again closely relate ourselves and our activities to the five fundamentals of county Y. M. C. A. work as follows:

1. "The organization of boys' and young men's groups or clubs, with competent leadership." There is a more general recognition of this group work than in former years, but we need to grasp even more fully the naturalness and value of taking boys' "gangs" and providing them with healthful and helpful activities through competent leadership. We started last year with 18 such groups, and ended with 35, meeting regularly in 11 communities. These must be thoroughly manned and their work intensified. We shall not aim at larger numbers particularly, although that is probable, but we shall strive for even better work. Despite the fact that we had more boys pass the difficult examinations last year than any other county association in the world, and more than any city association west of the Mississippi, we still feel there is room for improvement, and shall press on to even higher standards of work. The grading system, similar to the one used last year, will again be followed, and final examinations in Bible study work will be given. For the younger boys, who desire scouting and some military work, this will be provided, and activities along physical, social, mental, as well as spiritual lines, will be supplied. To stimulate a greater county consciousness among the boys and men, occasional county-wide activities will be held. The first of these is scheduled for Saturday, September 29th, when an opening banquet will be held at the Congregational church in Santa Ana for all boys who have taken any part in the work of the past year. Other such affairs will be held from time to time.

2. "The Training of Leaders of Groups." Since we consider the group work to be so important, surely the training of the volunteer leaders, who are responsible for the groups, is most vital. The Leaders' Club, with a membership of 40, will again conduct monthly meetings for training and conference. Supt. Cranston of Santa Ana, who did such valuable service in leading and training the leaders last year, has been secured to continue this work. Leader's Handbook, which contains many suggestions and helps, has been improved and will be provided for each leader. Special leaders' editions of the Bible study courses will be given the leaders, and all possible will be done to make them more efficient.

3. "The Winning of Boys and Young Men to Jesus Christ and the Church." As in the past, it will be our policy to co-operate very closely with the church. We wish to emphasize that the Young Men's Christian Association is not an athletic club or a social organization, but an association of Christian young men. It is our policy to lead boys and young men to accept Jesus Christ as the Master and Lord of their lives, and to make His program of service their very own.

The attainment of this goal will be made possible by the groups, conferences, special meetings, short camps and the longer, more thorough summer camps held each year at Catalina Island. The Southern California older boys' conference, to which we took 54 High school boys last year, will again receive emphasis. Another Orange county boys' conference will be held and Easter Sunday will again be designated as "Join the Church" Sunday. It will be our aim to list and check up even more carefully than before the members of the groups and lead them where possible to church affiliation. In all of our activities, whether camps, games, athletic meets or religious meetings, we shall endeavor to engender the spirit of Jesus Christ.

Realizing more and more the close relationship between the boy and his home, we shall endeavor to get in closer touch to the homes this year. This will be accomplished by a series of mothers' meetings and father and son meetings in the various communities. Leaders and secretaries will also do more this year in the way of knowing the parents and homes of the boys, so as to be of more service to the boys in their fight for character. We know that only by the closest co-operation between the home, school, church and Y. M. C. A. leader can the greatest good be accomplished, and so we shall do all in our power to make this thing possible.

4. "Giving County Committeemen Aggressive Leadership." We deem ourselves extremely fortunate to have on our county committee such dependable leading business men, who are ready to assume the basic responsibility for this county Y. M. C. A. work. They have proven themselves worthy of the trust, but, since they are busy men of affairs, they need aggressive leadership from their executive secretary. The debts which stared us in the face a year ago have been removed, but it will take concerted action to provide the budget for this rapidly growing work. The time has come when, if the work is to continue to grow, an assistant secretary is needed. This will demand more leadership and work along financial lines.

If the war continues we will again need to do our share in raising funds for the army Y. M. C. A. work. Also a local incumbrance in one of the communities of long standing must be handled this year. It shall become our policy to raise the finances needed early in the year by short whirlwind campaigns, leaving the secretary and machinery free thereafter to conduct the more important phases of the work. As in the past, it shall be our absolute policy to meet all bills as due and to conduct the Y. M. C. A.

Society and Personal

Miss Gladys Conrad left Thursday evening for San Francisco, where she will appear at the Orpheum theatre for two weeks, beginning Sunday afternoon. The company will begin a two-weeks' engagement at the Orpheum in Los Angeles Monday afternoon, October 8th, and will then go to Salt Lake City and through Texas and up to New York, the tour terminating February 18th. Miss Conrad appears as a partner in one of the dances with Theodore Kosloff, the famous Russian dancer. There are three women and Mr. Kosloff in the troupe and they are supposed to be Russians. Therefore, Miss Conrad's stage name is Maria Maslova. Mr. Kosloff has been in America since the outbreak of the war and is recognized as one of the world's greatest masculine dancers. Some idea may be gained of the expense these stage artists encounter when it is stated that Miss Conrad is allowed three pairs of toe slippers each week, which are worth $3.50 per pair, making an expense for the tour, covering 22 weeks, of $231 for slippers alone, and this allowance may not be sufficient to cover the entire cost of slippers.

Wiener Bake.

In honor of the seventeenth birthday anniversary of Miss Fern Bradbury, a wiener bake and watermelon feed was given on the beach Wednesday evening. Those participating included, besides the honoree, Miss Bessie Draper, Miss Ina Clemens, Miss Viola Walton, Miss Edith Harris, Miss Hazel Rennick, Miss Fern Irwin, Miss Gladys Bollon, Miss Irene Engle, Miss Allie Bradbury, Lorin Maddux, John Shutt, Claude Leatherman, Bandini Dear, Raymond Beem, Frank Draper, Walter Crane, Loraine Tarbox, Jack Given, Leo Lavering, Avery Rennick, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Maddux and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bradbury.

Woman's Club.

The next regular meeting of the Woman's Club will be held in the clubhouse Tuesday afternoon, September 25th, at 2:30. An unusually interesting and helpful program has been prepared. Roll call will be answered by household hints. Mrs. Libby O'Connor will read an interesting paper on economy and patriotism, and Mrs. Josephine Sparks will give an interesting talk on preserving and canning vegetables. September is the beginning of the club year, and it is hoped that as many members as can conveniently do so will come prepared to pay their yearly dues.

Dixon-Snyder Wedding.

Charles Edward Dixon and Mrs. Bertha N. Snyder were quietly married at the home of the bride, on Eleventh street, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. T. S. Urenn of Los Angeles officiating. The home was beautifully decorated for the happy occasion with evergreens. Light refreshments were served. Mr. Dixon is one of the well-known men in this vicinity, having operated a stage line between Huntington Beach and Santa Ana for the past two years, and prior to that time resided on his ranch at Springdale. Graham-Kasper Wedding.

Saturday morning of last week, at 9:30, Robert Graham and Miss Eva Kasper, popular young people of Huntington Beach, were united in marriage at the court house in Santa Ana. Finlayson and son, George, left Huntington Beach Wednesday morning for Los Angeles, where they will remain until Saturday and will then go to Mason City, Iowa, where Mr. Finlayson will take a position in the new sugar factory being erected by the Northern Sugar Co. Mr. Finlayson was sugar end foreman for 3 years and assistant superintendent for the past 2 years at the Holly sugar factory. Mr. and Mrs. Finlayson have many friends in this vicinity, who regret that they are leaving the city.

Returned from New Mexico.

Clinton Newland and John Corbin, who left with W. T. Newland September 9th for Willard, N. M., returned Tuesday evening. The trip from Huntington Beach was made in an automobile, but Mr. Corbin and Clinton returned on the train. Mr. Newland has purchased 500 acres of dry farming land in New Mexico and remained to arrange for cropping it. WEEKLY GREETING.

Obedience in will and work adorns, extends, and manifests the humility of man. . . It maintains peace and equality among equals. And he who observes it is beloved by those who are above him—and the gifts of God, which are eternal, elevate and enrich him.—Kingsbrook.

GARDEN GROVE TALKING INCORPORATION.

Some of the progressive citizens of Garden Grove are talking incorporation, and the indications are that the tenth incorporated city in Orange county will be Garden Grove.

This is good news, and it is to be hoped that the incorporation plan will be approved by the citizens on election day, as in no other way will that community improve, progress and grow as it should.

Editor King is publishing the best newspaper the citizens of that town have enjoyed, and, with incorporation in sight, the rapid advancement of that section is assured.

A town that does not incorporate will ever remain just a cross-roads village.

SOME HIGHER TAX RATES.

It might be of interest to those who think the tax rate in Huntington Beach is high to know that it is lower in this city than in many others of the sixth class of Southern California. Among the cities in Riverside county that have a higher rate are: Blythe, $2.00; Hemet, $2.00; Perris, $1.80; San Jacinto, $2.68. The rate fixed by the city trustees for this year is $1.50.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

(By V. B. Brown, Principal.)

Today one man can do what it took twenty-five men to do less than a century ago. We have learned to conserve the forces of nature and to utilize them to the limit. Our great-grandfathers had slow means of locomotion—they went on horseback or in cumbersome ox carts. They got to town only a few times a year. They made their own crude tools to subdue the primitive soil. The housewife spun the wool and flax and made cloth for the garments that the family wore. The education of the boy was secured by grinding toil on the farm. Sixteen hours was not an uncommon day's work.

Today, most of our people are brought together in cities. Industry is carried on, not by man force, but by steam and electricity. Groups of men—a factory group—put their time into turning out one line of production. Specialization rules. Man directs the power that nature supplies.

Thus it has come about that the specialist, the scientist, the man who understands the forces of nature and machinery, is the man who is in control. He directs the great industrial organism. The jack-at-all-trades of fifty years ago is only a common laborer today. A basic knowledge of the forces that man can control is necessary to success in industry.

The school must supply the education that home training found equivalent a half century ago. The school only can furnish it because that education must be technical.

The war has proved conclusively that the great rulers of today are our scientists, our mechanics, our inventors, the men who understand nature and the forces that we can compel to do our work.

Huntington Beach Union High School is prepared to give the boy and girl preparation along technical lines.

Our Science department offers you GENERAL SCIENCE, a general view of the broad field of science, a foretaste of specialized science. It is one of our best courses for the under-class students—the freshmen and sophomores. It takes up the study of air, heat, light, water, weather, sound, electricity, magnetism. It interests the student in an elementary way in science. The course will satisfy the student who wants to question nature.

AGRICULTURE aims to give a basis for scientific farming. Plant life, a study of soils, gardening, irrigation, dairying, live stock, diseases of plants and animals, are some of the subjects looked into. The course applies science in a practical way. Hoover says that the war will be won by food. The scientific farmer is more powerful than the kaiser's military machine.

CHEMISTRY stands back of modern progress. The chemist works in our food factories, our hospitals, our electric and mineral laboratories. He investigates questions pertaining to fuel, paper manufacture, photography, rubber, fertilizers, medicines, dyestuffs—in fact, his field is a broad one. The study of chemistry is an entering gate to many fields of practical experimentation.

Our Manual Arts courses include drawing, both free-hand and mechanical. These subjects are approached from the commercial, the practical viewpoint. Drawing will be found helpful and necessary in all electrical work, construction of simple machine parts, foundry work, pattern making, architecture.

The Manual Training courses are strengthened by the superior equipment of our shop. The courses cover furniture making, boat building, farm projects, and other construction that the individual desires to take up. The instruction will be mainly individual, each student selecting his own project. Sheet metal and cornice work may be taken up during the year, as also forge work. Woodturning will be one interesting feature of the manual training courses.

Huntington Beach Union High School is interested in your preparation and your success.

Special provision will be made this year for some students who have dropped out of Grammar school before completing the courses there. In High school a variety of subjects is offered, and such a student ought to be able to find something that will make him a more valuable workman, a more profitable producer. You may be easily able to work into the regular High school courses and graduate later. If you have been out of Grammar school for some time and feel the need of a better education, come to the High school and talk matters over. This is your chance.

Registration of students, September 28th, 29th, Thursday and Friday.

RICHARDSON LEADS IN STRAW VOTE.

The annual meeting of the Southern California Editorial Association was held at the Clark hotel, in Los Angeles, Monday. There was a straw vote taken at the luncheon table for governor, the ticket containing the names of Governor William D. Richardson of Berkeley, and the result was: Richardson, 36; Stephens, 3, with 8 members declining to vote.

The ballot was also passed around in the ladies' auxiliary, assembled in another room, and Richardson received 29 and 6 declined to vote.

FOUR-MINUTE TALK WAS APPRECIATED.

REV. ROBERT JOHN COYNE WAS THE SPEAKER.

The "Four-Minute" man in Huntington Beach Saturday evening was appreciated. The talk was given by Rev. Robert John Coyne, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, and, as he stated, was one of the talks being given in 800 moving picture shows in the United States at the same time.

Rev. Coyne paid his compliments to W. Hohenzollern in very strong language, and it will not be safe for him to visit Germany until the Kaiser has been blasted off his throne.

The talk was given under the direction of the National Committee of Public Information.

LIBRARY FUND FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

There was a meeting of the women interested in the movement to raise $75, the amount apportioned to Huntington Beach of the $1,000,000 library fund, to be raised next week, at the library Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when plans were perfected for the campaign, which will begin next Monday morning. No large amount will be expected of anyone, as the total to be raised is comparatively small.

The Government is authority for the statement that $1 will furnish a book, keep it in circulation, and replace it when it is worn out, and also pay a share of the expense of housing and caring for the books.

The following well-known women will have charge of the work next week: Mrs. C. A. Johnson, Mrs. Louis A. Copeland, Mrs. H. L. Heffner, Mrs. A. W. Griffith, Mrs. H L. Dunning, Mrs. Ed Manning, Mrs. C. R. Stanford, Mrs. R. H. Chapin, Mrs. D. W. Huston, Mrs. Reuben Catching, Mrs. M. A. McCreery, Mrs. T. B. Talbert, Mrs. Joseph Vavra, Mrs. C. E. Kutzner, Mrs. S. A. Moore and Miss Maude Swarth.

JEW FISH WEIGHING 90 POUNDS LANDED.

The largest fish ever landed in these waters was pulled up at the end of the pier this morning about 9 o'clock by J. A. Gore, residing at 606 Delaware avenue, assisted by most of those who happened to be in the vicinity, including Trustee D. W. Huston, official fish reporter for Huntington Beach.

The fish was of the black bass family, commonly known as jewfish, and was hooked on an ordinary tackle used by Mr. Gore. About 30 minutes were required to exhaust the big fish, which was landed after being gaffed.

There was a big run of mackerel around the pier Sunday morning, and bushels of them have been hooked this week.

Everybody is invited, and the bigger the delegation, the better.

SOME BUSINESS HOUSES INSTALLING NEW LIGHTS.

NEW MODEL OF ELECTRIC CONCEALED LAMPS.

The Southern California Edison Co. has installed new model electric concealed lamps in Obarr's drug store, M. A. Turner Co.'s store and the Palace pool hall, that are attracting considerable attention.

The light company rents the lamps, installs them free of charge, and guarantees that the light bill will be less than formerly.

SOME FINE LEMONS.

There is on display at the News office some fine lemons, grown on the ranch of C. J. Yost, on Garfield street, near the boulevard.

Mr. Yost has three trees that are protected from the wind and are now producing high grade lemons. The sample display consists of eight nice lemons on one twig.

The trees were planted five years ago and were nipped by the big freeze four years ago. Mr. Yost states that his trees have never been sprayed and have had but little water, and that as good lemons can be grown on this mesa as elsewhere, if the trees are protected from the wind and given proper attention.

SOME FINE APPLES.

W. S. Hill, the well-known fruit grower, residing north of the city, left a display of fine apples at the News office this morning, consisting of one branch with 15 apples on 18 inches of the twig.

Mr. Hill does not know the variety, as when ordering the trees banana apples were specified, but some other variety was substituted.

These apples have occasioned much favorable comment, on account of the uniform size of the fruit forming the cluster.

BAND BOYS DESIRE MORE TIME FOR CALLS.

Editor Huntington Beach News.
Dear Sir:

May I say a word through your paper in behalf of the band boys and their employers?

While the Board of Trustees has done everything for the band that has been asked and has treated us with liberality, it must be remembered that, individually, the boys have not profited to the amount of a cent, and, when asked to play, must get the consent of their employers, and, usually, must find someone to work in their places. Now, if the public will kindly remember this, and give us a little more time before advertising that we will play, it will not only be a kindness to the band boys, but to their employers, who sometimes resent an employee's constant requests for a day off.

Another thing that I am requested to say is that the band has but one business manager, and the assurance of any member of the band that the band will play does not tend to create a good feeling with the boys, who feel that they have elected one man to do their business for them, and, while not wishing to disappoint anyone, sometimes feel that to have to fulfill a promise made by one without authority is very unsatisfactory.

Yours very truly,
CHAS. R. NUTT,
Business Manager Huntington Beach Municipal Band.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB IS AFTER NEW MEMBERS.

EXPECTS 15,000 BY FIRST OF THE YEAR.

Directors and officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California will tomorrow launch the 15,000 membership campaign of that organization in its drive for 15,000 members by January 1st.

So vast have become the demands upon the Automobile Club for sign-posting operations, road mapping and good roads work that the directors have decided that in order to successfully carry out proposed plans for next year it will be necessary to have 3,000 more members in Southern California by the first of the year.

To this end, President Baker will call into the field the full force of the organization in each of the thirteen southern counties. Every club representative and the heads of all touring bureaus will act as the centers for the district activity in the campaign for increasing the membership.

This will be the second membership increase officially called for by the president and directors of the club. The first was issued more than a year ago, when it was decided to increase the membership. This followed closely upon the decision of the club to enter the field of national sign-posting, with a view to marking all routes which lead to Southern California from eastern states.

In order to make the campaign a success, every club member is asked to secure one new member. Every member thus added will make just so much more work by the club possible in the way of extending the sign-posting system and in improving that already in use.

The campaign will be pressed particularly in the agricultural districts, where the sign-posting system is of particular importance in guiding thousands of motorists every year over routes which they would not take were it not for the road being marked. Also, the city dweller, particularly in Los Angeles and San Diego, will feel the spur of the motoring campaigners to his bit to keep up the roads, the signs and the free touring information to the 50,000 visitors annually.

Only a little more than three months have been allowed the campaign, which means about 1,000 members each month.

[Robert John Coyne.]

Thursday evening, September 13th, will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to secure admission to the mammoth Sunday tabernacle. It was a "Men's" night, and the great tabernacle was packed with the greatest assemblage of men ever gathered together under one roof in any city in California, or, for that matter, west of Denver. Acres of men, oodles of men, men everywhere and packed like sardines in one big box. It was a warm night, and, therefore, it was a sweltering crowd. But it was a good-natured throng, although there was much nervous scrambling for seats. And what a scene! A sea of human faces, representing personality and potentiality of such divergent and various shades and quantity. One said on a somewhat similar occasion, "They are sheep without a shepherd." There was a small army of finely trained ushers, which handled the large crowd with remarkable ease and celerity. In less than one hour there were almost 20,000 men within the building and seated. Large delegations were present from out-of-town corporations, as well as from corporations within Los Angeles. The surrounding cities also furnished their quota. Pomona sent 1,200 men, headed by a brass band. Long Beach sent 1,600 men, who had as their musicians the drum corps of the Grand Army Veterans of Long Beach. About 40 delegations of men occupied reserved sections, while the rest of the building was unable to accommodate those who would enter. Two thousand five hundred men made up the mammoth men's choir, and not less than five hundred ministers were present in their section. On either side of the platform were the press tables, where the representative of the California Christian Advocate was warmly welcomed by Mr. George Sunday and given a reservation with the reportorial staff of the secular press. Just before the meeting began, and while the bands were in turn rendering sacred selections, away up among the roof timbers, near the front end of the building and almost over the platform, the legs of a man were seen dangling from one of the large ventilators. In a moment the body followed and a man in the garb of a mechanic crawled out upon a girder and prepared to make himself a comfortable hearer. The crowd spotted him immediately and cheer after cheer were given the brave fellow for his determination to hear the world's greatest evangelist. He was invited down, and, first, throwing down his cap, he nimbly shinned down a supporting pillar and was given a good seat with the front row of dignitaries, on the platform. When the interest subsided somewhat, Mr. Homer Rodeheaver, Mr. Sunday's music director, reminded the crowd that it was not the first time that a man had come through a hole in a roof to see Jesus, and Mr. Rodeheaver hoped that the man would "hit the trail." Sure enough, the man was one of the first to "hit the trail."

Mr. Rodeheaver is a genius in handling men. He is a wonderful leader of massed singers, and his favorite instrument is not a piano or organ, but a very handsome gold-plated slide trombone. With this instrument he does his work most effectively, for he can easily be heard throughout the entire building. But such a leader! I believe "Rody" could make a lot of wooden benches sing, if he tried to. Twenty thousand men sang "Brighten the Corner." Did you hear it? Do you recall the thrill of it? Then "Rody" had them whistle it. It was simply triumphant.

The climax of the preliminary service, though, came when Mr. Rodeheaver invited the Veterans' Fife and Drum Corps of Long Beach to come up on the platform and play for the crowd. And they did so. First came the corps banner, on which was inscribed, "Long Beach; We Have the Spirit of 1776." This was cheered, but when a time-worn old veteran climbed up and waved Old Glory the crowd simply went wild. Cheers, hoots, whistles, yells, and in a moment pandemonium resigned. Men climbed up on their chairs and waved their hands and hats, while they whistled and yelled and cheered, and some of them wept. Then the drum corps struck up "Dixie" and the demonstration was renewed. While this was going on Billy Sunday reached the platform and quietly took a seat, and for once Mr. Sunday attracted little or no attention from the multitude. However, he "got" his later.

The sermon cannot be described. Epitomized, it was the heart of a man on fire for the good of his fellowmen. Billy Sunday would lay down his life for his Saviour. His subject was "God's Arrow," and the text, "As the Lord Lived Even What My God Saith, That Will I Speak," 2nd Chronicles, 18:13. When the sermon closed with Sunday's impassioned appeal, "I call you to line up for Jesus Christ!" the preacher was standing squarely on top of the pulpit, while the great crowd was on its feet and struggling down the aisles toward the platform, for the "trail" had been opened. Twelve hundred and thirty-eight men met the evangelist in his chute in the front of the platform, shook his hand and filed into the front benches, which had been hurriedly emptied to receive them, and met the personal workers, who took their names, addresses and church preference.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

(By the School.)

Many things lovely and new! The thirty-five little people that registered Monday for kindergarten have a beautiful sunny room, well equipped for them this year. The cupboards along the west side are especially fine, not only for their beauty, but for their usefulness. We are very fortunate in having Miss Imogene Pickrell for our kindergarten assistant this year. She is a graduate from the Normal school of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The new improvements and the large number of children that have registered prove to us that the kindergarten is really being appreciated and enjoyed. The people of the city showed a wonderful spirit of interest and enthusiasm last year. We only hope it continues and grows this year. Visitors are always welcome.

The first grade, Mrs. Thompson's room, made a fine showing on opening day of school. Every seat found a tiny little occupant, all anxious to find out "how to read." After getting acquainted with their teacher, the children told her of the different animals they saw in the circus and looked about the room and found pictures of what they saw. Mrs. Thompson is delighted with her pupils, and promises a number of "Opening Days" some time in the future.

The enrollment in the different grades follows: Kindergarten, 35; 1st grade, 35; 2nd, 27; 3rd, 32; 4th, 44; 5th, 31; 6th, 23; 7th, 43; 8th, 35. Total, 305.

Last year's total for September was 361.

When the pupils of the Huntington Beach Grammar school gathered on Monday morning, they found everything ready for them. Their rooms were numbered in order; desk tops looked like new, and material and books were ready for them. Everything moved with smoothness and precision, just as if there had been no vacation, with the exception of the shortness of Monday's session.

Owing to the resignation of Miss Reith at a late date, there has been no teacher for the planned ungraded room this week. Had Miss Reith not resigned to go to Pasadena, the faculty would have consisted of no new teachers, except Miss Imogene Pickrell, the kindergarten assistant. There is a wonderful advantage in having teachers that know the pupils and the system. No time need be lost in finding out things and making adjustments other than would come at any time.

The first call for baseball was issued by Mr. Skinner yesterday, and was answered by two score of young athletes. Despite the fact that the larger boys have graduated, the younger set is full of life and will no doubt produce a fast nine on the diamond. Some of the boys were unable to get out for yesterday's workout, but will appear for practice later. A fast and close game was played. Those playing were: Page, Masters, Dalby, Hawes, Snyder, Nolder, McSwain, Armour, Rabor, Kemp, Lake, Probert and Cochran.

CITY TRUSTEES WILL MEET MONDAY NIGHT.

There will be a meeting of the city trustees Monday night, for the purpose of considering protests against the improvement of a portion of First, Second and Third streets, if there be any. There will probably be a strong protest against having First street included in the district, as this street was not included in the petition filed asking for the improvement.

CO. Y. M. C. A. WORK HAS BEEN OUTLINED.

work in a strictly businesslike manner. The county committee will continue to meet the second Monday of each month and also it is hoped that, besides conducting the regular business, they may take up a regular series of studies along some profitable line.

5. "Co-operation with the State Committee." This fifth fundamental of the county work is to us so self-evident that it may seem so unnecessary to mention it, but it is well to keep it in mind. Some may fail to see that our work would be negligible without the advice and co-operation of the state department. We shall continue to do homage to the father of this work and to hope to have more frequent visits of the state secretaries.

This is in general a statement of our policy for the work of the coming year. Much will be added and some will perhaps be left undone, but we shall keep before us the fundamentals of the work, and, through the closest co-operation of all and the help of God, press on to an even greater work for the young men and boys of our county.

ELKS ARE GAMBOLING AT VENICE.

The Elks' Gambol, scheduled for Venice Sept. 20, 21 and 22, will be alive with features. Every lodge in Southern California is co-operating with Santa Monica lodge, No. 906, and with all the force of Elkdom in the field you can imagine the enormous backing that is behind the project.

At the entrance of the pier the beautiful red, white and blue Overland automobile, with a special top, special tires, special equipment and one of the prettiest machines ever handled by the Los Angeles agency, awaits the eventful Saturday night (September 22), when some visitor or resident will take it home as their lucky participation in the Gambol. On the first two nights, September 20, 21, each evening will be marked by the giving away of $100 in gold at the dance pavilion at 11:30 o'clock. (You have to be there to get this $100, as no number that is not present will be allowed.)

At the dance pavilion, Margaret La Faye, one of the cleverest of aesthetic dancers of the Southland, with her clever pupil, Helen Kinney, daughter of the founder of Venice, will present one of their fairy extravaganzas, entitled, "Dreamland," which is a marvel of grace and beauty. Popular Anita Wilson and Nadine Parks will appear in ballroom dances, both young misses being among the cleverest of the Venice pavilion juvenile stars. Helen Fox, in her pleasing toe dances, Louise Barner and Margaret Chiaffarelli in past and future dance steps portrayed in wonder form. Charming Dorothy Dilley and others.

"Days of '49," joker band, Serenita and La Plaza and their troups of Spanish musicians and dancers, fireworks, balloon showers, the big auctioneer stand on the plaza, confetti showers, serpentine battles, Perle Perry and her pretty domino girls, the three funny burros and their equally funny riders, quartettes that render, the beauty booth, where twenty of the bay beauties will dispense beautiful merchandise, the comedy cops, and hundreds of other fun features.
